

2024 Student Paid Summer Internship Program

Focus: Education

Details:

The Native American Fish and Wildlife Society (NAFWS) is recruiting to employ a Native American or Alaska Native, junior or senior level undergraduate or graduate student majoring in Conservation Law Enforcement, Wildlife, Natural Resources or a related field to complete an internship. The internship is for a period of 8 weeks for a stipend of $5,000.00. The Intern's duty station is preferred to be located at the NAFWS' main office in the north Denver area, however, telework (remote) is approved and can be further negotiated.

Additionally, the Intern may receive opportunities to travel to and attend the National Summer Youth Practicum (SYP), and any training or event in accordance with Center for Disease Control, and Tribal and State health and safety recommendations.

Responsibilities:

The Intern will be responsible for assisting the NAFWS Education Program Coordinators such as aiding in the development of NAFWS education programming such as curriculum development for the National SYP and professional development materials/needs; support administrative tasks, participate in the NAFWS SYP as a counselor, participate in a ride along with a Tribal Natural Resource Employee with a local Tribe (dependent on schedule/location), and help with other assignments that will enhance and meet the NAFWS' mission and priorities.

Where possible and in accordance with all COVID-19 protocols, the Intern will travel to and attend any NAFWS sponsored or related events such as trainings and/or conferences.

Throughout the internship, the student employee will be responsible for conducting themselves in a manner that coincides with the Articles of Incorporation, Strategic Plan, Code of Ethics, Conference Code of Conduct and other NAFWS regulations, policies and procedures. Interns will be representing the Society in a professional work environment and are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner, including following guidance and direction from NAFWS staff.
