

2023 Great Plains Regional Conference

Native American Fish and Wildlife Society
The Lodge in Deadwood, SD
April 5-6, 2023

Workshop: Climate Resiliency and Environmental Justice

Learn about conservation planning in the Great Plains and join in on a discussion about climate resiliency and environmental justice. The discussion will be focused on what Tribal managers need in order to develop a sustainable program that builds Tribal capacity. The outcome would be a document that can be shared with our federal funding partners on what is and isn't working for you.

When: Wednesday, April 5, 2023

Where: Pinecrest Room B: 3:00 to 5:00 pm

Coordinator: Heather Bartlett, Climate Change Biologist – NAFWS

Agenda

Time	Topic	Presenter
3:00– 3:10pm	Welcome and Introductions	Heather Bartlett, NAFWS
3:10 – 3:45 pm	Grasslands for Generations: Conservation Planning to Protect Wildlife and Native Lifeways	Emily Boyd-Valandra, Buffalo Nations Grasslands Alliance
3:45- 4:25 pm	Financing Conservation on Tribal Lands	Shaun Grassel, Lower Brule Tribe
4:25 – 5:00 pm	Climate Resiliency and Environmental Justice: Needs of tribal managers and ways to create sustainable programming	Coordinator: Heather Bartlett, NAFWS Round Table: all attendees and presenters